

Marietta Middle School Magnet Science Fiction Summer Reading

The summer months are a wonderful time to explore the world of books and reading! Students are encouraged to read any grade-appropriate and parent-approved book. While Marietta City Schools does not endorse any title or author, the following novels of science fiction and fantasy are suggestions from “Out of This World Science Fiction: Booklists for Middle School” by Harford County (MD) Public Library that STEM students may enjoy reading.

The Ear, the Eye and the Arm by Nancy Farmer (Orchard, 2004).

The Night Room by E. M. Goldman (Puffin, 1997).

Invitation to the Game by Monica Hughes (Simon, 1993).

Alien Secrets by Annette Curtis Klause (Laurel Leaf, 1997).

The Great Interactive Dream Machine by Richard Peck (Puffin, 1998).

Galax-Arena by Gillian Rubinstein (Simon & Schuster, 1995).

The Dark Side of Nowhere by Neal Shusterman (Starscape, 2002).

Cyberstorm by Gloria Skurzynski (Simon & Schuster, 1995).

Virtual War by Gloria Skurzynski (Simon Pulse, 2008).

The Duplicate by William Sleator (Puffin, 1999).

Interstellar Pig by William Sleator (Puffin, 1995).

The Night the Heads Came by William Sleator (Dutton, 1996).
